1 THE COURT: All right. Good morning. Do you
2 need a minute Attorney Wolman?

3 ATTY. WOLMAN: No, your Honor. Trying to just 4 change the name on the system and that doesn't seem 5 to be working, so....

6 THE COURT: I see your name.

7 ATTY. WOLMAN: I wanted to add Attorney Horton's 8 name.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 ATTY. HORTON: Good morning, your Honor. My 12 name is Wesley Horton and I'm representing Attorney 13 Wolman on the order to show cause.

14 THE COURT: Very well. Is there an appearance 15 in the file?

16 ATTY. HORTON: I filed - I fax/filed an 17 appearance on late - on Monday, but I haven't seen it 18 on the computer, so. But we have filed it and I
19 believe the other counsel has it. Also, your Honor, 20 I would appreciate it -

21 THE COURT: So -

22 ATTY. HORTON: I'm sorry.

23 THE COURT: Why don't we just hold off?
24 Attorney Horton, I will follow through with Attorney 25 Ferraro to see if he can locate your filings. All 26 right. So -

27 ATTY. HORTON: I have them in front of me. I

1 actually did file them. I also have a problem, your 2 Honor. I'm only on the order to show cause and I 3 have another Court hearing at 11:30. So, I would 4 appreciate it if I could be heard early.

5 THE COURT: Yeah. I don't think that's going to 6 happen, so why don't we see how we proceed. Maybe 7 we'll be very efficient and get to that point.

8 Okay. So this is Judge Bellis for the record
9 and we are in the case, the three consolidated cases
10 of Lafferty versus Jones, Docket No. Waterbury
11 Complex Litigation, 186046436. I'm going to just ask 12 counsel of record to identify themselves. I don't 13 have to have Attorney Horton re-identify himself, 14 since we already got him on the record. And once I
15 hear just from counsel of record, I don't need anyone 16 else to identify themselves. Then I will address the 17 media request that was made in the case.

18 So starting with plaintiff's counsel.

19 ATTY. MATTEI: Good morning, your Honor. This 20 is Chris Mattei on behalf of the plaintiff's. I'm 21 joined today by my colleagues Alinor Sterling, Sarah 22 Steinfeld and Matthew Blumenthal.

23 THE COURT: All right.. And for the defendant's.

24 ATTY. WOLMAN: Good morning, your Honor. This 25 is Jay Wolman of Randazza Legal Group representing 26 Alex Jones, Infowars, LLC, Infowars Help, LLC, Free
27 Speech Systems, LLC and Prison Planet T.V., LLC. I'm

1 joined by my colleague Attorney Cameron Atkinson from 2 Pattis & Smith, who represents the four LLC
3 defendant's that I referenced.

4 THE COURT: All righty.

5 ATTY. CERAME: Good morning, your Honor. Mario
6 Cerame for Genesis Communications from Brignole, Bush
7 and Lewis.

8 THE COURT: Okay. All right. So I'm going to 9 ask - and good morning everyone. I'm going to ask 10 everyone to make sure your devices are muted. I see 11 that some of you are not muted. I'm going to try to 12 do the same so that it's a little easier for our 13 Court Reporter to take down everything without any 14 feedback. And I'm sure that at some point I'll 15 forget to unmute or counsel will forget to unmute, 16 and I'm sure we'll deal with that.

17 So yesterday there was a request from 18 Connecticut Public Radio to audiotape the 19 proceedings. I know that Mr. Ferraro reached out to 20 counsel of record to see if there was any objection.
21 I think we heard from everyone except for the - 22 except from Attorney Wolman. So did you have an 23 objection, sir?

24 ATTY. WOLMAN: No objection, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. So at this point then 26 having no objection, the audiotape proceedings can 27 now begin at this point if they still wish to do so.

1 All right. So what I thought I would do, is I
2 have an agenda of how I planned to proceed. We'll 3 see how far we get today and then I have some items 4 that will be on the next agenda. So I'm going to go
5 through all that first, and just sort of get everyone 6 up to speed as to how we're going to proceed. And 7 then I'm going to do my old standby where I ask 8 counsel if there is anything that they have that's 9 ready to be adjudicated today or needs a briefing 10 schedule, so that we can do the same thing that we do 11 every time.

12 So I'm going to start with the plaintiff's 13 motion to seal and then we're going to move to the 14 defendant's motion to dismiss with respect to 15 Lafferty and the plaintiff's motion to substitute.
16 I'm then planning on hearing arguments. I'm going to 17 leave out the claim of manufacturer to trial balances 18 in the Flores issue, so that a surreply can be filed.
19 So that will be dealt with at the next hearing. But 20 I will hear argument on the discovery issues, as it 21 relates to the Google analytics. Discovery to social 22 media discovery. The Clinton deposition issue, and 23 the defendant's discovery to date.

24 And then I was planning on addressing the show
25 cause hearing for Attorney Wolman. So the next time 26 we have our status conference, which I believe is 27 November 17th, in addition to dealing with the

1 plaintiff's motion regarding the claim of a
2 manufactured trial balances, I'm going to direct Mr.
3 Ferraro to docket the October 12 motion to seal that 4 was filed at entry number 507. Just give me one 5 moment. I don't think it's 507. So I have - just 6 one moment. I know we have two motions to seal that 7 are going to go on the next hearing. So I have entry 8 number 515, which was filed on October 18th that was 9 the plaintiff's motion to seal. And I have the 10 defendant's motion to seal at entry number 510, and 11 that was filed on October 14th. Mr. Ferraro, is 12 there a third motion to seal or are those the only 13 two motions to seal?

14 THE CLERK: Those are the two new one's your 15 Honor. The third is the one we're going to argue 16 today.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Very well.

18 ATTY. WOLMAN: Your Honor, if I may interject.
19 Your Honor has asked us by 5 p.m. to file our 20 surreply. I should note that there may be the case 21 that we will need to file a motion to seal relative 22 to an un-redacted version of that surreply. And I
23 would ask because of the timing, the short timing 24 that while we can lodge a redacted version certainly 25 by 5 p.m. today, I would like to be able to lodge the 26 motion to seal on the un-redacted version by 5 p.m.
27 tomorrow. If that's all right.

1 THE COURT: I don't have a problem with that.

2 That's fine. All right. So just give me one moment.

3 THE CLERK: Your Honor, if that gets filed sort 4 of by tomorrow, that other motion to seal, that is 5 enough time to hear that one on the 17th.

6 THE COURT: All right. So -

7 THE CLERK: If you chose to do so.

8 THE COURT: All right. So that motion to seal,
9 if it is in fact filed, I'll instruct you to please 10 docket that for our next hearing date, which is 11 November 17th.

12 THE CLERK: Yes, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Okay. So besides what I've laid out 14 for our agenda to address today, and what I've 15 already mentioned that we're going to address next 16 time, I'm going to ask counsel as we do every time, 17 to identify anything else that counsel believes is 18 ready to be adjudicated today. And then I'll turn to 19 anything that counsel has filed since our last status 20 conference that needs a briefing schedule.

21 So I'm going to actually start with you Attorney 22 Cerame, since you generally identify yourself last.
23 Let me let you be first this time.. Is there anything 24 sir, that I haven't mentioned that you filed that you 25 feel is ready to be adjudicated today?

26 ATTY. CERAME: I don't believe so, your Honor.

27 THE COURT: Thank you. And is there anything

1 that you filed sir, since our last status conference
2 that needs a briefing schedule?

3 ATTY. CERAME: No, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Thank you. And I'll turn to 5 Attorney Wolman. Same question. Anything that I 6 haven't mentioned that you believe is ready to be 7 adjudicated today?

8 ATTY. WOLMAN: I don't believe so your Honor.

9 Nor have we filed anything that - anticipating your 10 next question, anything that I believe requires a 11 briefing schedule at this time.

12 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. And then turning to 13 plaintiff's counsel. Same two questions. Just make 14 sure you unmute, please?

15 ATTY. MATTEI: Yup. Your Honor, the only motion 16 that you did not mention, but you previously 17 indicated that you were going to be prepared to 18 address sanctions to today, is the motion for 19 sanctions related to the subsidiary ledgers. I
20 understand that you're putting off the trial balance 21 issue. But that issue I think is ready to go as 22 well.

23 THE COURT: Yeah. .I am going to address the 24 issue on the subsidiary ledgers and the trial
25 balances at the next hearing. I think I was too 26 optimistic as to what we were going to be able to do 27 today. And I have other matters today, so we're

1 going to just do what's on the agenda for today. But 2 those will both be on the agenda next time.

3 ATTY. MATTEI: Very well. The only other issue
4 is the one you've already mentioned. Our motion to 5 seal, I supposed that needs a briefing schedule. We 6 indicated in that motion that we don't believe the 7 continued sealing is appropriate. And so I suspect 8 that Attorney Wolman will want to brief that, as will 9 we.

10 THE COURT: All right. So with respect to 11 motion to seal at number 515, which is dated October 12 18th. Any objection from any party? How much time 13 would you need?

14 ATTY. WOLMAN: Our response, your Honor - this 15 is Jay Wolman for the record. I could do two weeks 16 from today is fine.

17 THE COURT: Okay. So that would be - I don't 18 have a calendar close by. Is that November 3rd, Mr.
19 Ferraro? Do you have a calendar?

20 THE CLERK: Yes, your Honor. November 3rd.

21 THE COURT: No reply.

22 ATTY. WOLMAN: And if I may, your Honor? I
23 should add that if Mr. Mattei or other plaintiff's 24 counsel wanted to respond to my motion with respect 25 to the Jacobson deposition that was filed under 26 seal -

27 THE COURT: Yeah.

1 ATTY. WOLMAN: - and my anticipated motion
2 tomorrow, today, whatever, that they may want some 3 time on that as well.

4 ATTY. MATTEI: Your Honor, regarding the -

5 THE COURT: I'm referring to entry number 510, 6 filed on October 14th, the defendant's motion to 7 seal. Is there any reason why we can't use that same 8 date for any objection that might be filed by any 9 party?

10 ATTY. MATTEI: That's fine, Judge.

11 THE COURT: Okay. So November 3, 2021. No 12 reply. All right. And if there is a third motion to 13 seal that is filed by Attorney Wolman, we'll follow
14 that same deadline. Okay. Anything else from you 15 Attorney Wolman on anything that either needs a 16 briefing schedule is ready that I haven't mentioned?

17 ATTY. WOLMAN: No, your Honor, and I apologize
18 for the oversight.

19 THE COURT: Not a problem. Okay. So we'll 20 first take up the plaintiff's motion for seal - 21 motion to seal at requesting other relief. That's at 22 entry number 455. I have the defendant's objection, 23 at number 503, and I have the plaintiff's reply at 24 509. So first, let me just find for the record, that 25 the matter was properly docketed and the public was 26 properly notified on the Judicial Branch Website in a 27 timely manner.

1 And if anyone is - wishes to address the Court 2 on the motion to seal, would you please identify 3 yourself at this time? All right. Having heard no
4 response. I'll start with the movant whenever you're 5 ready. I'm not sure who's arguing it. Attorney 6 Mattei?

7 ATTY. MATTEI: Yes, your Honor, I'll take this.
8 Thank you, Judge. As you know, the Court, I believe 9 since our filing of the motion has ordered us to 10 produce certain documents to the defendant's, covered 11 by this motion pursuant to a designation under the 12 protective order as highly confidential, attorney's 13 eyes only. As a result of that ruling, we think it's 14 even more clear now that the defendant's motion in 15 which they publically disclosed contents of documents 16 that they were not entitled to have at that time, be 17 sealed. Because it relates to information and 18 material that this Court has already determined 19 deserves protection under the protective order. So 20 that's number one.

21 We also want the Court to make clear in its 22 order today, that not only does the designation of 23 those documents as highly confidential attorney's 24 eyes only apply to documents that the defendant's 25 properly received in discovery from us, but applies 26 to any documents that they improperly obtained from 27 Mr. Halbig.

1 We presume that those documents are identical, 2 although the defense to date has refused to provide 3 us with the documents that Mr. Halbig provided to 4 them. So we think that the Courts determination that 5 these documents are deserving of protection, should 6 be dispositive on this issue, and that the 7 defendant's public filing, unnecessary public filing 8 in which they described the documents themselves.
9 Which at that time they were not entitled to have.
10 And which we believe they improperly obtained. And 11 in which they described at least to some degree the 12 contents of those documents, that that should be 13 sealed as well.

14 THE COURT: Thank you. Attorney Wolman.

15 ATTY. WOLMAN: Sorry, your Honor. Thank you.
16 Plaintiff's confused issues, simply pled. What Mr.
17 Halbig sent is not what - is not produced in 18 discovery. What plaintiff's will produce to us is 19 something that is being produced in discovery and can 20 be protected by the protective order. These are two 21 separate issues. And I of course want to address one 22 quick thing. On the notice itself, they haven't 23 identified a single thing that we disclosed as to the 24 contents of it. May have identified who the parties 25 to a document are. That is not disclosing the 26 contents of anything. So I take issue with any 27 accusation regarding that.

1 Similarly, we did not obtain these improperly.
2 No more so than Woodward and Bernstein obtained 3 information from Deep throat improperly, or the New 4 York Times obtained the Pentagon papers improperly.
5 What a third party - because Mr. Halbig is now a 6 third party to this litigation, because the 7 plaintiff's withdrew their claims against him. A 8 third party to this litigation provided documents to 9 us.

10 Whether or not he violated an agreement in doing 11 so, that's between him and the parties to the 12 agreement. And if they - plaintiff's want to take 13 action against him, that may be their prerogative.
14 But that does not hamstring us. We cannot be tied 15 down. The media cannot be tied down when a third 16 party, and The Supreme Court is clear on this, a 17 third party provides us information. Because the - 18 and this is even carved out of the protective order 19 that we agreed to.

20 We would not have agreed to a protective order 21 that did not have this carved out, because these were 22 documents we lawfully obtained. We didn't steal 23 them. We didn't coerce them at the end of a gun. We 24 lawfully obtained them from a third party. We didn't 25 hack into any system. He chose of his own volition 26 to provide them to us. And we gave notice to the 27 Court, because we thought that that

1 was - and to plaintiffs because that was appropriate 2 considering the issues about -

3 THE COURT: I'm going to interrupt you for a
4 second, Attorney Wolman and just - I have a question.
5 I thought I understood that the protective order that 6 you had proposed to the Court and that the Court 7 ultimately adopted dealt with not only discovery from 8 the parties, but it dealt with discovery that was 9 obtained from third parties. And as my recollection 10 serves, this disclosure or the documents were 11 obtained either in connection with or at around the 12 time Mr. Halbig was being deposed. So I understand 13 he was a party and he's no longer a party, but 14 doesn't - you're in the middle of discovery, you were 15 taking his deposition, doesn't your protective order 16 deal with discovery materials that are obtained 17 during discovery?

18 ATTY. WOLMAN: This was not obtained during 19 discovery, your Honor. In fact, a motion for a 20 commission to take his deposition was either pending 21 or had been adjudicated, but no subpoena had issued 22 to Mr. Halbig at that time. So this cannot be said 23 to come through in discovery when he was not the 24 subject of - of the discovery -

25 THE COURT: That doesn't answer my question.
26 Doesn't your protective order encompass materials
27 that were obtained in connection with discovery? I

1 understand you're saying this was not discovery. He 2 was a former party, it wasn't formally in connection 3 with the deposition. But my question is, doesn't the 4 protective order deal with documents that are 5 obtained during the discovery process?

6 ATTY. WOLMAN: By that logic, your Honor -

7 THE COURT: I'm just asking. It's a yes or no.
8 I'm not asking - it's yes or no. You proposed the 9 protective order, you filed one.

10 ATTY. WOLMAN: It is not in the discovery
11 process. Is says in discovery. That is the issue 12 here. We can look at the language of the protective 13 order, but if Connecticut Public Radio, which is 14 listening in today, if they provided us documents 15 right now, that would not be in discovery. If 16 President Biden provided us with documents right now, 17 that would not be in discovery. Merely because there 18 is a lawsuit, does not mean that anytime a third 19 party to that lawsuit provides a litigant with a 20 document, that it is in discovery.

21 Mr. Halbig was not the subject of a subpoena.

22 He did not respond to a subpoena in providing us with 23 those documents, therefore they were not provided in 24 discovery. And your Honor even made clear in her 25 last sanctions order, that to provide something in 26 discovery means it has to be served on all parties.
27 It wasn't served on the plaintiff's. It wasn't

1 served on - actually it wasn't served - it was served 2 on Mr. Cerame, I should note. But - and it was 3 emailed to him. It was not a discovery request.
4 This is not in discovery any more so than if 5 President Biden right now gave us some information or 6 if Governor Lamont gave us some information.

7 THE COURT: When did you file your motion for 8 commission to take Mr. Halbig's deposition?

9 ATTY. WOLMAN: I do not know that offhand, your 10 Honor.

11 THE COURT: Take your time.

12 ATTY. WOLMAN: That was filed July 7th, your 13 Honor. No - wait, that's the plaintiffs' response.
14 Sorry. Looking for it. Might have been June 28th.
15 Yes, it was June 28th, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: All right. Just give me one moment, 17 please. So I'm just taking a look at that, and it 18 looks like in that motion for commission - so that 19 was filed June 28th, it looks like by Attorney 20 Pattis' office. When did you obtain the materials?
21 Just out of curiosity. I thought you put it in some 22 filing.

23 ATTY. WOLMAN: It was after that date, your 24 Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. So the motion for 26 commission that was filed with the Court on June 27 28th, and that asked for permission to take the 1 deposition about the settlement paid, and so forth.

2 So you set - not you, but the defendant's set forth 3 the reason they wanted to take the depositions and 4 that they wanted to ask Mr. Halbig about the 5 settlement, the releases, the payments, and then 6 you - they took the - Attorney Pattis' office took 7 the somewhat unusual step maybe of actually sending a 8 copy of that motion for commission to Mr. Halbig. It 9 looks like it was sent to his email address and that 10 it was to be mailed to his home address.

11 So you know, that - in my mind when you look at 12 that, that's a motion that's filed with the Court.
13 That's certified, emailed and sent to Mr. Halbig, who 14 was a defendant and so now you've got him involved in 15 the discovery process. So I understand what you're 16 saying that the subpoena had not been served, but 17 that's - and I accept your word on that. I have no 18 reason to doubt it. But I can tell by looking at the 19 motion that Mr. Halbig was served with this discovery 20 request and then you got the material subsequently.
21 So it's a little murky in my mind. It's not as clear 22 cut maybe as you're making it sound. But continue 23 because I did interrupt you.

24 ATTY. WOLMAN: And certainly if your Honor is 25 thinking that it's murky, then murkiness should be 26 resolved on the favor of the First Amendment here, 27 not to - and not issue and order a gag order, because

1 that's what the plaintiffs are requesting. A gag 2 order in a prior restraint, which is fully 3 un-constitutional and we should not view murkiness as 4 an excuse to violate the First Amendment.

5 If it's clear that it was produced in response 6 to a subpoena, fine. It was not. No subpoena had 7 been served. Mr. Halbig was given notice of a 8 request for a commission. I think that should be 9 commendable and that actually be practiced. I think 10 we should amend the Practice Book to require that a 11 copy be - of a motion for commission to be mailed 12 upon a punitive deponent.

13 So that they can respond here rather than later
14 and deal with the subpoena as need be. And a motion 15 to quash and whatever other state that winds up to 16 being. But here he had no obligation to do
17 something. The Court - you know, a subpoena compels 18 somebody to produce documents under penalty of 19 contempt power. This Courts contempt power or 20 whatever, a local Court's contempt power. He had no
21 obligation to produce it. The Court can issue orders 22 sanctioning any litigant who does not produce a 23 discover - a document in discovery when they are 24 compelled in a request for production.

25 That is a document produced under the aegis of 26 the proper discovery process. Mr. Halbig did not 27 respond to a document request under the Practice

1 Book. There was none pending. There was no subpoena
2 pending that he chose and thought that maybe this 3 would obviate anything. I don't know. That's his 4 decision. But whatever's lurking in his mind, if he 5 chose to violate the protective order - I'm sorry, 6 the confidentiality order, that confidentiality
7 provision that was up to him as well. You know, one 8 would think that he would have been filed a 9 protective order because it's confidential. He 10 didn't. That is not somebody who is responding in 11 discovery would act. They would file a motion for 12 protective order to make sure. But he did not.

13 THE COURT: Attorney Wolman, what are we talking 14 about? I had previously designated the releases as 15 highly confidential under the protective order.

16 ATTY. WOLMAN: Your Honor designated the 17 plaintiff's production of the -

18 THE COURT: I understand that, but you're not 19 letting me finish my question.

20 ATTY. WOLMAN: Oh, I heard a pause.

21 THE COURT: That's all right. Well, I'm just 22 catching my breath. So since the Court had already 23 designated the releases as highly confidential, what 24 are we talking about? I don't want to sit here and 25 waste everybody's time. What are we talking about 26 besides releases? I mean, is this an academic 27 exercise so that we can discuss the First Amendment.

1 I'm just trying to understand this because that order
2 is in place, and let's all be clear. All that does 3 is give the documents that obtained during discovery 4 a status that then just requires anyone who wants to 5 use the documents in the file to file a motion. It 6 doesn't mean that the documents can never be filed.
7 It's just a status that one the side or the other can 8 challenge, and which may or may not end up getting 9 filed with the Court.

10 So my question is, what are you talking about 11 besides releases? In my experience, you have a 12 withdrawal and you have a release. Those are the 13 settlement documents in a case. The withdrawal is a 14 public record, it's in the file, and the releases are 15 already designated. So what is it that we're talking 16 about?

17 ATTY. WOLMAN: Your Honor, the releases as 18 provided by Mr. Halbig are not designated. That is 19 the issue. The First Amendment is never academic.
20 If your Honor says right now that these are - that 21 what Mr. Halbig previously gave is attorney -

22 THE COURT: Mr. Wolman - Mr. Wolman, I -

23 ATTY. WOLMAN: May I - .

24 THE COURT: I thought that and I can look up my 25 order. I thought that I actually ruled in your favor
26 on the production on the releases. I believe that I 27 overruled the plaintiff's objections, ruled in your

1 favor and said that the releases, I thought for the 2 four former parties, which had include Halbig had to 3 be produced, but they would be designated as highly 4 confidential. If you don't agree with that then 5 we'll pause and I'll go look up. There's a lot of 6 orders in this case, and I can go look up the order.
7 Is that not your understanding?

8 ATTY. WOLMAN: Your Honor ordered that the 9 plaintiff's produce the releases as AEO. Your Honor
10 did not order that what Mr. Halbig gave us, for all I 11 know -

12 THE COURT: No, no.

13 ATTY. WOLMAN: - not going to produce the same
14 documents -

15 THE COURT: But - Mr. Wolman -

16 ATTY. WOLMAN: - as they hear them.

17 THE COURT: Mr. Wolman, this is really not 18 complicated and this is a yes or a no. It doesn't 19 call for any argument. It's a yes or a no or I don't 20 know, your Honor. Okay. Which is a valid response 21 if that's the proper answer. Did I not previously 22 rule in your favor, require the plaintiff's to 23 produce the four - the releases as to the four former 24 parties and then designate them as highly 25 confidential, including the Halbig release? Wasn't 26 the Halbig release - weren't the plaintiff's 27 obligated to produce a copy of that to you? Didn't I

1 rule in your favor, yes or no?

2 ATTY. WOLMAN: As to the plaintiff's producing 3 it, yes.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 ATTY. WOLMAN: Your Honor did not discuss what 6 Mr. Halbig produced to us.

7 THE COURT: Okay. So I have already designated 8 that release as highly confidential. The Halbig
9 release. I am not going to change that ruling.
10 That's the ruling that stands. I will not change it 11 and that's the ruling and you'll do what you need to 12 do. What I'm simply trying to find out, is whether 13 there are other documents, because - and I don't know 14 what we're talking about here, in my mind settlement 15 documents are a withdrawal and release and maybe a 16 copy of a check.

17 So is there anything else that I have to concern
18 myself with here or are we just talking about a 19 release?

20 ATTY. WOLMAN: I mean, Mr. Halbig sends us lots 21 of emails. There was - you know - I don't know what 22 the plaintiff's would be concerned with. Mr. Halbig 23 sent us some communications with his own counsel, a 24 Mr. Beatty.

25 ATTY. MATTEI: Your Honor, may I just be heard?

26 THE COURT: Well, I want - I interrupted 27 Attorney Wolman, so I just want to give him an opportunity to finish up since I interrupted him, and then I'll give you an opportunity to respond, since it's your motion.

4 ATTY. WOLMAN: I mean, arguably Mr. Halbig's
5 email made reference to the nature of the settlement 6 that was being proposed, and his aversion to wanting 7 to enter into it at all.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further before I
9 give the floor back to Attorney Mattei.

10 ATTY. CERAME: Your Honor, I should like to be 11 heard before Attorney Mattei, just in response 12 briefly?

13 THE COURT: I just want to make sure Attorney 14 Wolman's done, Attorney Cerame.

15 ATTY. WOLMAN: Your Honor, treating what a third 16 party provides as AEO is not the same as what the 17 plaintiff's provide. Under your Honor's order, this 18 is now a brand new order. And even though there is a 19 process for changing that designation, even three 20 seconds of a gag order is still unconstitutional.
21 And that's what this does.

22 THE COURT: All right. Attorney Cerame.

23 . . . ATTY. CERAME: Just briefly, your Honor. Just a 24 couple of points. There was the characterizations 25 made by Attorney Mattei that we have - that there was 26 an improper - the materials were improperly obtained.
27 As I understand it, these materials were also sent to

1 us. I believe personally that they got caught in our 2 Spam filter, and I have not seen these materials.

3 But nonetheless, ostensibly they were sent to 4 us. I take the issue with the characterization that 5 we improperly obtained them. That may have been a 6 rhetorical flourish, I'm not sure. But to whatever 7 extent there was not a need to make that in the 8 record. And I think that's - it may be relevant as 9 to analysis that we may have received it. And I just 10 wanted to make those points, your Honor. That's all 11 I have to say.

12 THE COURT: Attorney Mattei.

13 ATTY. MATTEI: Your Honor, Attorney Wolman is - 14 made the argument that because these were produced by 15 Mr. Halbig, they weren't produced in discovery. The 16 context here is important. A week after the Court 17 ruled that they were not entitled to inquire of Mr.
18 Halbig or obtain documents relating to settlement 19 from him, they then received these documents from Mr.
20 Halbig.

21 And you point out, Judge, that although we don't 22 know, that very well may have been prompted by them 23 sending Mr. Halbig the motion for commission, and any 24 other communication's they may have had, which we 25 don't know. But what's clear is that they were 26 attempting to obtain these documents from Mr. Halbig
27 in discovery, the Court precluded them from doing

1 that, and they then obtained them anyway. So the 2 idea that these were not exchanged or provided in 3 discovery, doesn't make much sense.

4 And I also want to respond to this claim that 5 Mr. Wolman is a member of the media. And that 6 precluding him from distributing documents obtained 7 in discovery, is a prior restraint. Mr. Wolman is 8 not a member of the media. He is a lawyer 9 representing a litigant before this Court, who is 10 bound by this Courts protective orders. And simply 11 because he's in possession of an identical copy of a 12 document, that this Court has already determined is 13 deserving of protection, does not mean that can - or 14 his client, can disseminate that document, simply 15 because it's a copy, to the media as they've 16 indicated in their pleadings they want to do. For 17 the purpose we claim, of attempting to taint the jury 18 pool.

19 So from our prospective, this is the Courts 20 entry or protective order and determination that 21 these documents are covered by, and under a highly 22 confidential designation, isn't a prior restraint on 23 anybody. It is an order entered essentially by 24 agreement with the defense to be bound by it. And it 25 doesn't matter whether or not they obtain the 26 document from Mr. Halbig, which we believe was 27 perhaps not pursuant to formal discovery, but

1 certainly within the discovery process, or from us.
2 It's the same document, it's deserving of protection,
3 and that should be maintained.

4 THE COURT: All right. So I am going to deny
5 the motion to seal. I'm also going to deny the 6 plaintiff's request for a Court order designated - 7 designating that all the settlement materials and 8 information be treated as highly confidential.

9 However, my prior order that the releases are 10 designated as highly confidential remains in effect.
11 So with respect to any releases that the parties 12 obtained they are designated as highly confidential
13 and that order remains in effect. All right. So now 14 I'm going to turn to the defendant's motion to 15 dismiss with respect to the Lafferty claim. That is 16 at entry number 445. I have the plaintiff's 17 objection that is at entry number 462. And I have 18 the defendant's reply that is at number 477. I am 19 also going to take up in conjunction with the motion 20 to dismiss, the plaintiff's motion to substitute, 21 which is at 459 and 460. The defendant's objection, 22 which is at 501. The plaintiff's reply, which is 513.

23 Ordinarily there is no right to oral argument on 24 a motion to substitute, but in light of the pending 25 motion to dismiss, I am going to allow argument on 26 the motion to substitute, as well as the motion to 27 dismiss. And I think it makes the most sense to 1 start with the movant on the motion to dismiss. And 2 I think the substitution and the dismissal can be 3 dealt with the same time in the argument, then I will 4 have the plaintiff's response and then the 5 defendant's will have an opportunity to reply.

6 So I just want to make Attorney Cerame, because 7 I never want to forget you. I didn't see you had any 8 filings with respect to the Lafferty motion to 9 dismiss, and I don't see that you formally joined in 10 it. Did you?

11 ATTY. CERAME: I did not. Your Honor, I don't 12 think I have anything clever or particularly nuance
13 to add beyond what Attorney Wolman's already said. I
14 have discussed the issue with him, but, truly - I - 15 there are very intelligent people writing here, and I 16 do not have anything particular to add.

17 THE COURT: All right. And then what about the 18 motion to substitute? Did you want to weigh in on 19 that motion at the appropriate time?

20 ATTY. CERAME: Nothing beyond what Attorney 21 Wolman has said. I - he's really - he's briefed the 22 issue much more thoroughly than I could have.

23 THE COURT: All right. So then I will not worry 24 about forgetting you in the argument, with the 25 understanding that you are opting out. And I will 26 start with Attorney Wolman, who will address his 27 motion to dismiss and the plaintiff's motion to 1 substitute. Whenever you're ready, sir.

2 ATTY. WOLMAN: Thank you, your Honor. With 3 respect to Erica Lafferty. We brought this issue to 4 the Courts attention back in May. At the same time
5 we did with respect to Mr. Richmond. The late Mr.
6 Richmond. And at that time the Court in viewing a 7 similar motion to dismiss and motion to substitute, 8 viewed it as - she permitted the substitution for the 9 purpose of withdrawing the claim. There is no 10 functional difference here. Ms. Lafferty has not 11 been a real party and interest since December of 12 2018. She did not inform the Court. We learned 13 about her bankruptcy by happenstance while doing a 14 pacer search, as I customarily do in discovery of 15 litigants. And at that time we also learned that 16 nominally the claims had sold back to her, committing 17 a fraud in the bankruptcy court, which has since been 18 reversed.

19 But at all times because that sale was voided, 20 the trustee, Mr. Coan has been the real party and 21 interest continuously through today from December of 22 2018. And what we have here is - and I should note.
23 There's an argument first raised in the plaintiff's 24 reply on the substitution motion. That I think 25 should come into bearing.

26 Which is, that because Ms. Lafferty claimed a 27 partial exemption in the matter, under section 522,

1 that somehow she remained a real party in interest.
2 While that is an interesting argument to make, she's 3 still then saying that Mr. Coan should be 4 substituted, which then doesn't make sense either
5 way. They can't have it both ways. That was a reply 6 in support of substituting Mr. Coan. She's been 7 saying no, she's really the real party in interest.
8 No. Mr. Coan has been. And while they look to one 9 case, one Superior Court case, I would say that the 10 Court should defer to what the U.S. Bankruptcy Court 11 for the District of Connecticut has stated.

12 In the matter of In Re: Xiao, X-I-A-0, 2016
13 Bankruptcy in Lexus 4121. Judge Tancredi noted that 14 when a timely objection, that is to a claim of 15 exemption is lodged, and we have done so, however the 16 assets claimed as exempt remain property of the 17 estate, unless and until the objection is overruled.
18 It could not be more clear that that. And he cites 19 to the Eastern District of New York. He cites to the 20 Tenth Circuit Bankruptcy Appellate Panel, which that 21 decision was affirmed. That is what the Court should 22 look to, a decision of the Bankruptcy Court as to who 23 actually remains the real party in interest.

24 You know, Ms. Lafferty may prevail in the issue 25 regarding the claimed exemption. The Court has - the 26 Bankruptcy Court has actually deferred action on that 27 case, pending the outcome of this - of that issue,

1 pending the outcome of this case. And so what we 2 have is a matter where the assets remain property of 3 the bankruptcy estate even today. They remained 4 property of the bankruptcy estate even when that bill 5 of sale had purportedly issued because that bill of 6 sale was void. The Bankruptcy Court declared that in 7 void, therefore it has zero legal effect. So since 8 that time she is not the real party in interest.

9 Now sometimes we do substitute the trustee, and 10 that is a motion pending in this court.

11 THE COURT: Can you address what discretion in 12 your opinion the Court has with respect to the motion 13 to substitute? Is it your position the Courts hands 14 are tied under the law?

15 ATTY. WOLMAN: I think that just as with the 16 executrix of the Richmond Estate. We're facing a 17 situation here where the trustee has known he is the 18 real party in interest for years. For years. And 19 has chosen not to prosecute. We should not be 20 rewarding his nonfeasance with now all of a sudden 21 letting him into the case well after significant 22 discovery has been taken. That would be prejudicial, 23 your Honor. Just as it was that your Honor felt that 24 Mr. Richmond's claim should be withdrawn because 25 the - presumably the late date at substitution has 26 being sought. This is even later for an even longer 27 period of time. There is no excuse.

1 Mr. Coan tried to make sure that we did not know
2 what was going on the Bankruptcy Administration. He 3 didn't appear in this case, despite the fact that 4 plaintiff's firm had been hired years ago and 5 retained through an order of the Bankruptcy Court to 6 prosecute the case in the name of Ms. Lafferty. That 7 was the purpose of that order. Ms. Lafferty herself 8 sought that order - and assented to it rather. The 9 trustee is the one who, I should note, moved for it 10 if I recall. But she did not object to that.

11 THE COURT: Attorney Wolman, what of the fact 12 that the case did not remain dormant during the time 13 that the trustee was not named as a party in this 14 case? What significance under the law is that?

15 ATTY. WOLMAN: Well, I mean there has been 16 certain amounts of dormancy at least in this court, 17 where months went by when we were in the Supreme 18 Court of Connecticut. There were months that went by 19 when we were in the District Court -

20 THE COURT: Well, what I meant by dormancy, I
21 don't mean when you removed it to Federal Court, 22 where obviously it would be improper for this Court 23 to do anything, nor do I mean, I believe I had 24 granted your stay. I don't know if you filed it or 25 if Attorney Pattis. So I'm not talking about that as 26 dormancy. In my mind dormancy is when there can be 27 activity on a case and nobody's prosecuting their

1 claim.

2 Given - I can't - I would be hard pressed to 3 find certainly not another case on my docket, but I'd 4 be hard pressed to find another case that's 5 prosecuted and defended as vigorously as this case.
6 So I don't see besides when we were not permitted
7 under the law to have any activity in the case, I 8 don't see that this case was ever dormant for 9 probably a day. And I'm just wondering how 10 significant is that under the law.

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: Well, I think that we should also 12 look at the fact that discovery was served in May.
13 Months before substitution was sought. Ms. Lafferty, 14 her deposition was taken. And the - you know, some 15 of the issues in terms of how things were 16 characterized, even with respect to the motion for 17 commission regarding Mrs. Clinton, you know, 18 related - is related to that.

19 We have severe prejudice. We did not get to 20 issue interrogatories. We have not been able to 21 dispose Mr. Coan as a party. In fact he had objected 22 to his - to a subpoena to him. He did not wish to be 23 deposed in this matter. Or I apologize, maybe it's 24 the plaintiffs were seeking to preclude his 25 deposition. I forget who filed that one. Who 26 objected to that subpoena, moved to quash it. I 27 believe that the trustee joined in it, or filed his

1 own motion. But -

2 THE COURT: Attorney Wolman, let me just ask 3 you. I know that you're in the middle of 4 depositions, because I'm getting phone calls during 5 the deposition in this case. Where's the prejudice
6 if you weren't able to take the depositions that you
7 say that you weren't able to take? I could see you
8 would be prejudiced if trial started tomorrow and you 9 couldn't do the depositions that you wanted. But 10 clearly you're right in the midst of depositions. So 11 what is the prejudice that attached here, so that I 12 understand it a little better?

13 ATTY. WOLMAN: Well, I mean, part of the problem 14 is we still haven't even gotten any production from 15 Mr. Coan. Where the plaintiff's asked for time, Mr.
16 Coan has not asked for time, despite the Court
17 essentially ruling on that motion. We've gotten no
18 production from him. We haven't been propertied a 19 new date, we did not get to serve interrogatories on 20 him. That time has elapsed, and we've been litigating 21 against the wrong party for years.

22 THE COURT: Anything further, sir?

23 ATTY. WOLMAN: No, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Thank you. Attorney Mattei, are you 25 arguing this?

26 ATTY. MATTEI: Yes, your Honor. Thank you.

27 Taking up the both the motion to substitute and I

1 think the motion for lack of subject matter
2 jurisdiction at that same time. You started out with 3 the question, Judge, about whether your hands are 4 tied. Our view, and I think the view you have 5 embraces in a couple of prior cases you've handled 6 involving similar cases, is that you do have the 7 authority to resolve a motion to substitute, prior to 8 resolving a motion to dismiss for lack of subject 9 matter jurisdiction.

10 I believe that you did that in both the 11 Dragonetti case, 2010 Westlaw 4227122, and the 12 Messiah case, which we think is similar to this one.
13 2012 Westlaw 6634817. And I urge the Court to do 14 that here for a couple of reasons. Number one, it's 15 our view and I think the law supports this that Ms.
16 Lafferty has been and continues to be a proper party 17 in interest, having retained a legal and pecuniary 18 interest in this matter before the Bankruptcy Court, 19 for the duration of the case.

20 She's retained the maximum exemption that she 21 can under the Bankruptcy Code in an interest in the 22 case, and that confers upon her, both standing and 23 this Court's subject matter jurisdiction to prosecute 24 the claim in her own name.

25 With respect to Attorney Wolman's argument that 26 they've objected to that exemption, the objections
27 period for when Ms. Lafferty claimed that exemption

1 lapsed in February of 2019, I believe. And it wasn't 2 until the Jones defendant's intervened in Ms.
3 Lafferty's bankruptcy and claiming that she owes them
4 money that they attempted to object to that exemption 5 in August of this year. And I should note, that they 6 have not objected to Ms. Lafferty's claimed exemption 7 of her interest in this lawsuit. What they've 8 objected to, is her claim in the Bankruptcy Court 9 that she does not yet know what the value of the 10 remaining case is.

11 And as that exemption has existed, essentially 12 throughout the entirety of this case, that property, 13 her interest, had remained within the debtor's 14 possession. That is Ms. Lafferty's possession. And 15 we think that the cases that are most persuasive on 16 this issue are the Fetner case, which I will cite to 17 you as soon as I can pull it up. 218 bankruptcy, 262
18 In Re: Fetner. And also the Post versus Latera case, 19 which we cited to this Court. Where a debtor retains 20 a real legal and pecuniary interest in the litigation
21 that she is bringing, and has advised the Bankruptcy 22 Court of that. That confers upon her standing in 23 this court jurisdiction, and she has had it 24 throughout.

25 It's simply not part of the bankruptcy estate, 26 and for that principle, I would refer the Court to In 27 Re: Sheets, 69 Bankruptcy, 542. And In Re: Bedouin,

1 which is a Connecticut Bankruptcy case, 427 BR30.
2 Explaining that exempt property is not part of the 3 bankruptcy estate. And so she has maintained that 4 interest throughout, and as your Honor points out, 5 she has prosecuted the case diligently.

6 I do want to address Attorney Wolman's
7 disparagement of Mr. Coan. Mr. Coan has been a, I
8 believe a 35 year veteran of the Bankruptcy Court.
9 And he, as a result of the Bankruptcy Code has 10 discretion as to whether or not to substitute on 11 behalf of the Bankruptcy Estate. It's very clear 12 that he has discretion to do that. Having been made 13 aware of the pendency of the matter. Having been 14 aware of Ms. Lafferty's exemption. Mr. Coan was 15 fully within his rights as the trustee, to continue 16 to let her proceed with it, to pursue it and to 17 prosecute it on his behalf, which he did. And that 18 discretion is undeniably plain with the Bankruptcy 19 Regulations.

20 I also want to - sorry, Judge.

21 THE COURT: Take your time.

22 ATTY. MATTEI: I also want to say that the only 23 remaining question then, is whether or not Mr. Coan
24 may be substituted at this time. Mr. Wolman 25 criticizes him for now making an effort to 26 substitute. It's not necessary that he do so, but 27 he's doing that at this time, in part because the

1 Jones defendants have raised this issue. Not because 2 he's under any mandate to do that. He could continue 3 in his discretion to let Ms. Lafferty continue to 4 prosecute the case on his behalf. But he's opted to 5 seek substitution. Ms. Lafferty has opted for him to 6 seek substitution. And there's no prejudice to the 7 defendant. As you pointed out, your Honor, as a 8 result of this they still can take his deposition if 9 they wish. They still can seek discovery from Mr.
10 Coan, if they wish, but it's not really disputed that 11 the individual who has relevant information to Ms.
12 Lafferty's claim, is Ms. Lafferty herself. She's 13 been deposed. She's prepared records for production.
14 She has submitted interrogatory responses. And the 15 damages that are being claimed in this lawsuit, are 16 those that she personally experienced.

17 If the Court were to deny its subject matter 18 jurisdiction, deny Mr. Coan's ability to intervene in 19 this case, the injury would be to the Bankruptcy
20 Estate. And the entire purpose of the Bankruptcy
21 Code is to ensure that the assets of a Bankruptcy 22 Estate are maximized. The code is a shield for the 23 debtors' estate to maximize its value. It's not a 24 sword to be used by parties in litigation against the 25 estate.

26 He's been aware of the claim since the 27 beginning. He's exercised his discretion not to

1 substitute. And the clear distinction both between 2 the events surrounding Mr. Richmond's estate, are 3 that Ms. Lafferty has retained an interest
4 throughout. Obviously with Mr. Richmond's passing, 5 he did not retain an interest, was not capable of 6 prosecuting the matter and there was no
7 representative who had discretion to allow him to do 8 that. That's clearly not the case here. The 9 Bankruptcy Code's purpose is to ensure that there is 10 no end run of the bankruptcy process. And that the 11 estate's assets are being maximized. Here, Ms.
12 Lafferty disclosed to the Bankruptcy Court, her 13 interest in this litigation. She maintained an 14 exemption. The case was filed before she ever filed 15 for bankruptcy. And there's no dispute that she was 16 the proper party in interest as of that time.

17 And so we think that the Court should follow the 18 same rational that it used in Messiah. Conclude that 19 a substitution is appropriate, and allow the case to 20 continue. Indeed, both the Delito case and other 21 cases expanding upon this have held that the rules of 22 standing are not to be applied or construed narrowly, 23 so as to cut off a claim, but rather liberally, 24 particularly in the absence of any prejudice to allow 25 a claim to proceed. So for those reasons we think 26 the motion to substitute should be granted, and we 27 think the motion to dismiss should be denied.

1 And I just want to mention one other thing. In 2 the In Re: Xiao case, which Jay recently cited a 3 decision by Judge Tancredi, it was the trustee of the 4 bankruptcy estate that objected to the exemption that 5 the debtor was claiming. Here, neither the trustee 6 nor any legitimate creditor has objected to that 7 exemption. And so we're in a very different posture
8 than they were in the Xiao case. And we're much more 9 closer to Fetner and to the Latera case. Thank you 10 Judge.

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: May I respond, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Certainly.

13 ATTY. WOLMAN: First, that last point, our 14 clients are legitimate creditors. Ms. Lafferty
15 herself filed amended complaint - amended schedules 16 identifying our clients as creditors. That is why we 17 were then given an opportunity to object to the 18 claimed exemption. For the first time Ms. Lafferty 19 did not give our clients notice, and she cannot 20 capitalize on her own malfeasants in order to then 21 use that as some kind of issue of us sitting on our 22 rights.

23 No. The only party to sit.on his rights is .the 24 trustee. Yes. The trustee has discretion to 25 substitute. But simply his - even if he exercises 26 his discretion and doesn't substitute, that does not 27 confer standing on the debtor. That simply means

1 that nobody is prosecuting the case if he does not 2 substitute in. It does not mean that the debtor has 3 the right to do so. And it doesn't matter who filed
4 an objection - with respect to the Xiao case I cited, 5 Judge Tancredi stated the principle clearly. And we 6 did file an objection. We filed an objection timely 7 to the claimed exemption. And that has not been 8 adjudicated. And so therefore the owned proper party 9 this entire time has been the trustee and he has sat 10 on his rights and should not now be rewarded for 11 that.

12 And I should note, that Mr. Mattei
13 misrepresented the record. There is no, so far as 14 I'm aware, notice of compliance with respect to Ms.
15 Lafferty. She has not produced documents in this 16 matter. She is presumably part of this rolling 17 production, but we haven't gotten anything from her.
18 And we haven't gotten anything from Mr. Coan, who is 19 not subject to the rolling production so far as we 20 are aware.

21 So as a result, I see no reason why he should 22 now having not produced documents, having not had the 23 opportunity to serve interrogatories on him, that he 24 should now at this late date be permitted to 25 substitute in. Thank you.

26 ATTY. MATTEI: Your Honor, in response. First 27 of all -

1 THE COURT: I generally don't go back and forth, 2 Attorney Mattei, as you know. But since there was an 3 issue raised with regard to whether there had been 4 compliance, I think you should address that.

5 ATTY. MATTEI: Yes. Thank you, your Honor.
6 What I said was, that Ms. Lafferty has prepared 7 documents for production, which is accurate. As the 8 defendant's know, because they deposed her, and 9 deposed her on the preparation she had made to 10 produce documents. And I also said that she is 11 served interrogatories, which is true. So I - let me 12 just leave it there.

13 I also want to say that Ms. Lafferty has not 14 conceded that Mr. Jones is a creditor of hers. She 15 has listed in light of what the Jones defendants have 16 done to muck up her bankruptcy. Him as a contingent
17 creditor, they filed objections as I understand it, 18 to his claim. And Judge Manning has indicated that 19 she will not be addressing that until this matter is 20 resolved. That's all, Judge.

21 THE COURT: All right. So I am going to deny 22 the motion to dismiss, having granted the motion to 23 substitute, and I will issue something in writing.
24 And I just want to say, that I would consider any 25 appropriate motion to modify from the defendant's or 26 really from any of the parties, if additional time is 27 needed to conduct discovery specific to that

1 plaintiff, because certainly there should be no 2 prejudice if sufficient time for the discovery is 3 permitted.

4 So what I'm going to do now in an effort to 5 accommodate Attorney Horton, because I am not going 6 to get through that hearing today, and the other 7 important matters on our agenda. What I'm going to 8 do Attorney Horton, is sort of give a background, if 9 you would, so that you're on notice and Attorney 10 Wolman is on notice of the Courts concerns. So I 11 will put some background statement on the record so 12 that you know what you're defending against at the 13 next hearing.

14 I haven't yet decided whether I'm going to 15 possibly, if I find it appropriate, to do a referral
16 to Disciplinary Counsel, or if I'm going to exercise 17 my jurisdiction and discretion and deal with the 18 issue myself at a hearing. I might be leaning 19 towards dealing with the issue myself, with obviously 20 I'm very pleased to see that you're appearing for 21 Attorney Wolman. That's a good thing. So - and I 22 certainly want to give you enough time as well, so 23 that you know what the Court's concerns are.

24 ATTY. HORTON: Yes.

25 THE COURT: All right. So - and I don't think 26 once we're done with it, there's not going to be any 27 colloquy, any further discussion, unless you had a

1 specific question. Which I don't think you will.
2 And I'll plan on addressing this issue at our next 3 scheduled status conference. Okay. So on May 6, 4 2021, the Court having already referred prior defense 5 counsel to the Disciplinary Authorities, and 6 concerned about obstructive and dilatory practices, 7 as well as candor towards the tribunal on the part of 8 the defense, instructed all counsel in the case to 9 review the relevant sections of The Rules of 10 Professional Conduct.

11 On May 29, 2021, the Court warned Attorney 12 Wolman to refrain from invoking The Rules of 13 Professional Conduct in civil filings in this 14 lawsuit, as it is entirely inappropriate to use the 15 rules as a weapon in a civil lawsuit. The Court 16 warned Attorney Wolman that any further such usage of 17 the rules would result in immediate action by the 18 Court, under Practice Book Section 2-45.

19 Then on June 26, 2021, Attorney Wolman was 20 warned to refrain from inappropriate commentary and 21 ad hominem criticism of the Court in court filings in 22 this case. These are all very unusual steps for the 23 Court to take. This brings us to the September 17, 24 2021 deposition of unrepresented witness Robert 25 Jacobson. The deposition transcript, which has been 26 lodged with the Court at the Courts request, will be 27 marked as a Court Exhibit now, Mr. Ferraro,

1 temporarily under seal. As I see that it contains 2 personal identifying information, and it may contain 3 other information. And Attorney Ferraro, we will put 4 that issue on the agenda as well for our next status
5 conference. That motion - the Courts sua sponte 6 motion to seal parts of the transcript.

7 I'm also going to instruct Mr. Ferraro to mark
8 the subpoena that was served on Mr. Jacobson as a 9 Court Exhibit. That was filed by plaintiff's 10 counsel, also as a result of the Courts order. And 11 we'll mark that as a Court Exhibit as well. The 12 Court's reviewed the entire deposition transcript of 13 Mr. Jacobson. And had the Court had that information 14 during the September 17 telephone conference that was 15 done on the record, and had the Court had any inkling 16 of the abusive questioning that was being conducted 17 by Attorney Wolman, I would have immediately, 18 immediately stopped the deposition. And if I was 19 going to permit any further questioning of that 20 witness, it would have been done in open court with 21 the Court on the bench and present for any further 22 questioning. But I did not, obviously have the 23 transcript in front of me as the deposition was 24 ongoing.

25 In response to Attorney Wolman's questioning of 26 Mr. Jacobson, Mr. Jacobson's response would indicate 27 that he had no documents that were responsive to the

1 plaintiff's subpoena on either his phone or on the 2 Cloud, except for the subpoena itself. And after the 3 plaintiff objected to the request, Attorney Wolman
4 asked Mr. Jacobson to search the email on his phone 5 for the phrase Sandy Hook. In response, Mr. Jacobson
6 asked Attorney Wolman, quote, am I legally required 7 to do so, end quote.

8 And rather than refrain from giving legal 9 advice, Attorney Wolman's response was, quote, you're 10 here and you're subpoenaed here, and you brought your 11 documents, your entire email account to the 12 deposition, end quote. Following another objection
13 by plaintiffs' counsel, Attorney Wolman asked Mr.
14 Jacobson, quote, are you refusing my request, end 15 quote. Referring to his request that the 16 unrepresented witness search his phone. At which 17 time Mr. Jacobson stated that he would like to 18 consult with a lawyer.

19 Attorney Wolman then asked the witness how much 20 time do you need today to consult with a lawyer. At 21 this point on the record with the witness there,
22 plaintiff's counsel with Attorney Wolman's okay, 23 emailed the Court Officer, Mr. Ferraro, to get the 24 Court involved to get a ruling on the issue of 25 whether the unrepresented witness needed to search 26 his phone for the documents.

27 Nonetheless, Attorney Wolman, after stating

1 that the witness had not called counsel immediately, 2 and knowing that the Court had been contacted to 3 intervene in the issue, pressured and barraged the 4 witness by asking, would you like to call a lawyer
5 right now? Mr. Jacobson, are you going to call a 6 lawyer right now?

7 Attorney Wolman then stated that the witness had 8 a full and fair opportunity to seek counsel. And 9 after the witness stated again that he would await 10 the Courts ruling on the issue, Attorney Wolman again
11 asked the witness, are you refusing to produce 12 documents pursuant to the search I have requested?

13 The transcript that's been marked as a Court 14 Exhibit, shows that Attorney Wolman continued to 15 pressure and harass the witness, who stated over and 16 over again that he was waiting for the Courts ruling.
17 Attorney Wolman asked the witness several times what 18 the witness was doing himself to seek Court
19 intervention. While Attorney Wolman already knew 20 that Court intervention had been requested by the 21 lawyers, who had access to the Court.

22 This behavior concerns the Court, and that is 23 part of what Attorney Wolman is answering to. So 24 this witness, like most witnesses, did not have a 25 lawyer on standby. He testified in response to 26 Attorney Wolman's questioning, that he didn't bring a 27 lawyer to the deposition because he could not afford

1 one. Nor did this unrepresented witness have any 2 method of seeking Court intervention on his own in 3 the middle of the deposition. The Court is also 4 concerned with Attorney Wolman's legally erroneous 5 and response to the witness's question, as to whether 6 the witness was legally required to search his phone.

7 There was no Court order that the Court had 8 issued, nor does the subpoena that's also been marked 9 as a Court Exhibit, require him to search his phone 10 in the middle of the deposition. And that is simply 11 not normal deposition procedure. It is actually 12 highly irregular.

13 In the middle of the deposition, the Court did 14 address on the record during the telephone 15 conference, the issue at hand. And I direct the 16 clerk to make a copy of that transcript as a Court
17 Exhibit as well. It's already contained in the file.
18 Attorney Wolman in his comments to the Court during 19 that hearing, justified his continuing to ask the 20 witness to search his phone, because the witness did 21 not himself somehow seek judicial intervention, in 22 addition to the judicial intervention that 23 plaintiffs' counsel had already set in motion, which 24 led to the hearing, and because the witness did not 25 somehow find a lawyer in the middle of the 26 deposition.

27 The Courts directive on the record at that

1 status conference, which took place in the middle of 2 the deposition, was that Attorney Wolman should file
3 a motion on the issue if he felt it was necessary.
4 And that it was not appropriate and not normal
5 deposition procedure to have a witness search a phone 6 for documents in the middle of the deposition. That 7 is what the Courts directive was. File a motion, if 8 you think it's necessary. This is highly 9 inappropriate and it is not normal. It is that 10 simple.

11 At that point the Court had not seen the 12 subpoena, which now that the Court has seen it, does 13 not show that the witness was required to produce his 14 phone at the deposition, nor had the Court seen the 15 earlier part of that deposition transcript with the 16 questioning that concerns the Court.

17 It's painfully clear to the Court now, having 18 reviewed the deposition transcript and subpoena that 19 the witness objected to searching his phone. That he 20 wanted time to talk to a lawyer. That he wanted the 21 Courts ruling. And it is also painfully clear that 22 under the law, the witness was under no legal 23 obligation to search his phone.

24 When Attorney Wolman went back on the record at 25 the deposition, he immediately asked the witness if 26 he was willing to search the phone. At no point did 27 Attorney Wolman make clear to the witness the Courts

1 directive, that it was inappropriate and not normal
2 to have a witness in the middle of a deposition 3 fumble through a phone and search for records.

4 The Court is concerned of possible Rules of 5 Professional Conduct violations of 3.43 and 3.44. By 6 disregarding the Court's directive and by misleading
7 the witness to believe that he had a legal obligation
8 to search his phone, email's or the Cloud, when no 9 such legal obligation existed. 3.5(4), by engaging 10 in conduct intended to disrupt a deposition by 11 harassing, barraging, or pressuring the witness.
12 4.1(1), by making a false statement of material fact 13 to the witness with regard to whether the witness had 14 a legal obligation to search his phone. And with 15 respect to his failure to info the witness of the 16 entirety of the Courts order. 4.3, by giving legal 17 advice to an unrepresented person, by virtue of his 18 response to the witnesses question of whether the 19 witness was legally required to search his phone.
20 And 8.4(3), by engaging in conduct involving 21 dishonesty, fraud, deceit or misrepresentation by 22 virtue of his response to the witness's question of 23 whether the witness was legally required to search 24 his phone.

25 So those are the Courts' concerns about possible 26 rules of professional conduct violations. We will 27 take that up at the next hearing, now that everyone

1 is on notice of what the Courts specific concerns
2 were, and what specific rules of professional 3 conduct, the Court is concerned might have been 4 violated. All right.

5 So Attorney Horton, you are more than welcome to 6 stay for the rest of this hearing. I see that its 7 11:16, so we got you out just in the nick of time.
8 Okay, sir. So we will see you at the next hearing 9 date.

10 ATTY. HORTON: Thank you, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: You're welcome.

12 All right. So I now want to address the 13 discovery issues. And I'm going to try to do it in a 14 way that makes sense to me, by sort of breaking it 15 down into different sub-categories. So let's start 16 with the issue in the motion for the Hillary Clinton
17 deposition. So the Court in its August 5, 2021
18 order, found that the defendant's Free Speech 19 Systems, LLC, Infowars, LLC, Infowars Health, LLC and 20 Prison Planet, LLC, willfully disregarded the Court 21 ordered procedure when filing their motion to depose 22 Hillary Clinton.

23 The Court further found that the defendant's ..
24 never took any corrective steps with respect to the 25 improper filing. And the Court expressed its grave
26 concerns that their actions in the future will have a 27 chilling effect on the testimony of witnesses who

1 would be rightfully concerned that their confidential 2 information, including their psychiatric and medical 3 histories, would be made available to the public.

4 The Court indicated that it would address
5 sanctions at a future hearing, and this is that 6 hearing. So I don't have a particular order. I'm 7 thinking that I will start with the defendant's, then 8 hear from the plaintiff's and then return to the 9 defendants, so that the defendants have an 10 opportunity to respond.

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: Thank you, your Honor.

12 We do take the confidentiality order very 13 seriously and have endeavored to abide it. There was 14 during a deposition this motion filed. And at the 15 end of the day it comes down to simply one sentence.
16 That the witness claims not to know how her legal 17 fees were being paid. That's the only information 18 that I can see in that motion that gives rise to the 19 Courts order. And you know, it was erroneously 20 believed that that was not subject to the 21 confidentiality order. The witness herself was not 22 identified.

23 And while it may be a technical violation, and 24 it was not realized to be so at the time -

25 THE COURT: So do you admit now that it was a 26 violation, whether it's a technical violation or not?

27 ATTY. WOLMAN: I would say it probably fits

1 within the language of what is protected. We had 2 concerns as to whether or not it truly was protected.
3 The Court has weighed in.

4 THE COURT: So let me ask you Attorney Wolman.
5 Do you have any disagreement that the transcript from 6 which that information was taken and filed on the 7 motion in the middle of the deposition apparently, 8 that that transcript had been marked. Whether you 9 agree with the designation or not, that it had been 10 marked as a protected document.

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: Yes, it had, your Honor. And I
12 would also ask that the Court to - I mean, make sure, 13 you know, that we're disambiguating which defendants
14 are at issue. Not all defendant -

15 THE COURT: Well I think when I just read my 16 statement, I listed the defendants that were involved
17 in the filing of that motion. So it's not necessary 18 to do that again.

19 ATTY. WOLMAN: Okay.

20 THE COURT: So tell me, because subsequent 21 argument with respect to this issue, the argument was 22 that essentially the protective order, there was no 23 basis for granting the protective order, and the 24 designation was not proper, and so be it.

25 I haven't - where do I see a filing anywhere that 26 corrects what happened or that says this was a 27 mistake? Or a technical violation? Or whatever your 1 position is?

2 I'm not saying I agree with it or not. But,
3 what I saw instead, the subsequent filings on this 4 issue was, Court had no basis for granting that 5 protective order, which by the way, you all filed.
6 The defendant's filed. And it was a bad designation.
7 Why was that posture taken?

8 ATTY. WOLMAN: Certainly I think we're entitled 9 to resist any accusation of a violation of a 10 protective order, as any litigant would be. And 11 that's how we did - we were looking to preserve the 12 issue -

13 THE COURT: The Court's concern - the Court's 14 concern, Attorney Wolman, is that there were several 15 itineration's of that protective order before the 16 Court granted the protective order in the early days 17 of this case. And I believe you actually were the 18 one that filed it. I understand there were 19 discussions with the plaintiff's. I understand all 20 that. But that was the protective order that you all 21 asked the Court to approve. And that - once the 22 Court enters the order, it's a Court order, correct?

23 ATTY. WOLMAN: Yes it is, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: I then get argument from your side, 25 from the defendant's, essentially saying that there 26 shouldn't have been a protective order. There was no 27 good faith basis for it. So I'm at a loss here. Is

1 the protective order now something that the 2 defendant's, if they disagree with the designation, 3 don't have to comply with?

4 ATTY. WOLMAN: No, your Honor. I think the 5 argument is a little more on the designation itself, 6 not being in good faith, and certainly that we didn't 7 appreciate that this kind of statement that doesn't 8 identify any particular witness, would be subsumed
9 within that protective order.

10 THE COURT: Say that again?

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: We didn't identify who it was who 12 was being deposed. We gave no explanation -

13 THE COURT: So, is it your -

14 ATTY. WOLMAN: - first deposition -

15 THE COURT: - so was the information contained 16 in that motion not information contained from the 17 deposition?

18 ATTY. WOLMAN: It was, but that the nature of 19 the disclosure itself was not viewed as a violation 20 of that order. That was - we did not -

21 THE COURT: So because you didn't list the name, 22 you could take what - so if someone designates a 23 transcript as confidential, or whatever the 24 designation is, anybody in the case can file whatever 25 they want as long as they don't give the name of the 26 deponent?

27 ATTY. WOLMAN: That as a general - as long as

1 you're not saying who it is, what it is, you know, I
2 think that is - makes it readily identifiable.

3 THE COURT: So -

4 ATTY. WOLMAN: Who it is -

5 THE COURT: So you're - so then - Attorney
6 Wolman, say psychiatric records are produced. You 7 can just white-out the name of the plaintiff or the 8 patient, and you can - you can put that out there 9 because it doesn't identify the person?

10 ATTY. WOLMAN: No, your Honor. But I think we 11 can say that three plaintiff's claim anxiety, seven 12 plaintiff's claim PTSD. Whatever the numbers may 13 wind up being. Six plaintiffs have gone to - or some 14 plaintiffs have gone to this particular out of state 15 doctor, and therefore we need a commission to take 16 his or her deposition.

17 We're not identifying who the plaintiffs are, 18 but you have to set forth a reason, and we're not 19 saying anybody's particular information. Nobody can 20 say which of the multitude of plaintiffs it is. It's 21 presenting generalized information. And that was not 22 understood as to what we had agreed on. And that the 23 designation - it was not realized that this would - 24 that type of thing would be viewed as a violation of 25 the protective order. If your Honor is saying that 26 it is, we will certainly abide that order from here 27 on out.

1 THE COURT: Well I'm concerned - it doesn't seem 2 complicated to me, it actually seems extremely basic.

3 But I'm very concerned. So as I understand it, the 4 parties are in the middle of a deposition.

5 Deposition testimony is elicited. In the middle of 6 the deposition, information from that deposition is 7 used, and in the middle of the deposition a motion is 8 filed with information from that deposition.

9 It's pretty rare in my mind to see. I mean, I'm 10 not sure I've ever seen someone in the middle of a 11 deposition use information from that deposition, 12 while it's still ongoing, and immediately file a 13 motion. So that was a little unusual. But I'm just 14 struggling. I'm not sure that the defendant's 15 understand their obligations under the Court order, 16 that if a deposition transcript is designated by one,
17 two, three; or all the parties, that the information
18 from that deposition cannot be used in the manner 19 that it was used. And I'm hearing things that 20 concern me.

21 So now your position is we can use, despite the 22 Courts order, we can use information contained - that 23 was elicited in the deposition, as long as we don't 24 identify. So for example, for example, for example 25 and tell me if I'm wrong. So if the plaintiff's - if 26 you designated a deposition of one of the defendant's 27 as confidential until you all figured out what

1 portions would be confidential or not, for the 2 purposes of discovery. And the plaintiff's elicited 3 deposition testimony that one of the defendant's,
4 doesn't matter which one, let's say Prison Planet
5 T.V., LLC. It really doesn't matter. But they gross 6 85 billion dollars a year in advertising revenue.
7 The - or is it your position then that the 8 plaintiff's would then be able to put that in a 9 motion, even though you've designated the transcript
10 as confidential? That one of the defendant's grosses 11 85 billion dollars a year in advertising revenue, as 12 long as they don't say that it was Prison Plant T.V., 13 LLC because it doesn't identify them? It could be 14 any of the defendant's?

15 ATTY. WOLMAN: Well, certainly it would be a 16 fact by case by case scenario, because we've 17 certainly represented that none of the defendant's, 18 except for Free Speech Systems, is the revenue
19 generating entity, because that produces Infowars.
20 So certainly if that were to come in, unless of 21 course somehow it's thought up as being Genesis 22 Communications. This - with respect to the issue
23 here, it did not directly identify any identifiable 24 witness, whereas that kind of example might.

25 We appreciate your Honor's elaboration of how 26 the order is to be interpreted moving forward. And 27 we'll abide that. And we will go forward with that

1 understanding that this is how things are to be 2 treated. It was not understood that way at the time
3 the commission motion was filed. And because now
4 that your Honor has clarified, this is how we're 5 going to do it going forward, we are certainly -

6 THE COURT: All right. So Attorney Wolman,
7 let's just step back for a bit, if you would? Let's 8 pull up the protective order that was in effect at 9 the time. The protective order that you filed. And 10 point me to the paragraph's that I need to look at, 11 that you now say that it wasn't clear to you that you 12 could apparently use portions of a deposition 13 transcript where the deposition had been marked 14 confidential by a party. So tell me, the protective 15 order was filed when?

16 ATTY. WOLMAN: Sorry, what's the entry number, 17 your Honor?

18 THE COURT: I don't know. You filed -

19 ATTY. MATTEI: 185.

20 THE COURT: What is it?

21 ATTY. MATTEI: 185.

22 THE COURT: All right. So I'm going to go to 23 the number 185. That is the proposed order that you
24 actually filed on February 22, 2019, that I granted
25 on that same day. This was your document, not mine.
26 And tell me the provision that you're suggesting now, 27 you needed further clarification from the Court.

1 And just before we get to that. Attorney
2 Wolman, just so that we're all on the same page.
3 When - let's say you marked during discovery, let's 4 say that you marked a document as confidential. And 5 let's say that Attorney Mattei for the plaintiff 6 disagreed with your designation. What is the 7 procedure that he would follow to challenge the 8 designation?

9 ATTY. WOLMAN: That would be following the 10 deposition and opportunity to meet and confer.

11 THE COURT: And then if you met and conferred, 12 and he - and you stood by your designation that 13 that's confidential, but he wanted to use that 14 information in a court filing. What is he to do 15 then?

16 ATTY. WOLMAN: He's supposed to file it under 17 seal, or at least seek a sealing. I don't believe 18 the plaintiff's had done that consistently throughout 19 this case, however.

20 THE COURT: Just - just let's stick to what the 21 question is. What's the procedure? Go ahead.

22 ATTY. WOLMAN: That one would file that 23 redacted. File an un-redacted under seal 24 conditionally.

25 THE COURT: And then the Court makes the 26 determination of whether - of what should happen,
27 correct?

1 ATTY. WOLMAN: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Right. We did that, did we not, on 3 record in the - with respect to your clients? I
4 think we spent a good solid hour on the record. I
5 sealed some items. You withdrew some items. And I
6 didn't seal some items. So that was sort of like a 7 challenge, correct, to the designation.

8 ATTY. WOLMAN: That - well, no, that wasn't a 9 challenge to the designation. That was as to the 10 issue of sealing. But we did not do that, for 11 example, with respect to a reply memorandum that was 12 filed un-redacted.

13 THE COURT: I just want to make sure that 14 there's no concern. That you have a mechanism and 15 that you understand the mechanism that if - that if a 16 document is designated as confidential or highly 17 confidential, that the procedure that is in place is 18 followed. I just want to make sure that everyone is 19 on the same page with that so we don't have any 20 problems.

21 So you have a meet and confer. Then if the 22 document is a document that needs to be filed in a 23 court filing, it's filed under seal. It's lodged, 24 and then the Court addresses it. And it either 25 remains - it either can get filed under seal or it's 26 not filed under seal.

27 ATTY. WOLMAN: Right. It's hard to point to a

1 specific portion, and certainly I can't - I was not 2 the filing attorney of that motion. I was busy
3 taking the deposition, your Honor. But, you know,
4 just in the aggregate, it's unclear that it applied
5 to representations regarding an unnamed witness.

6 THE COURT: Let's direct ourselves back - I'm 7 still on the protective order. I pulled it up and 8 I'm just waiting for you, because I don't want any 9 more problems in the future. So direct me, since I 10 have your document up, direct me to the relevant 11 provision on documents that are designated as 12 confidential. So when a deposition transcript is 13 designated as confidential or highly confidential, 14 what are you permitted or not permitted to do with 15 that transcript?

16 ATTY. WOLMAN: Well, paragraph 14-A and 14-B 17 talks about designation of the transcript as 18 confidential information. It doesn't say what 19 constitutes the confidential information. It just -

20 THE COURT: Well, no. Attorney Wolman, listen 21 to me. You're - I want - I'm not asking what 22 constitutes confidential information. This is really 23 .not complicated and you're making it more 24 complicated. A party designates a document, rightly 25 or wrongly, they exercise their right under this 26 protective order to designate a document.

27 We're not addressing as whether anyone agrees or

1 disagrees with the designation. But once the 2 designation is made to a deposition transcript, 3 whether you agree with it or not, how is that 4 deposition transcript treated? And that's what I
5 want you to show me in this protective order.

6 ATTY. WOLMAN: Well the transcript is treated 7 for that time period until the designation is 8 challenged as confidential information, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: And what paragraph am I looking at, 10 if you can?

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: Fourteen A and B, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Just give me one moment, please.
13 And then 15 maybe, no one may attend or review the 14 transcripts of the portions of any depositions, at 15 which confidential information is shown or discussed, 16 other than persons authorized to receive access to 17 confidential information?

18 ATTY. WOLMAN: Yes, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: All right. So it seems clear to me
20 that if, again, this is the document that you filed 21 and you asked the Court to approve. It seems clear 22 to me that re-reviewing those paragraphs, it's a 23 pretty straight forward document that if a party 24 exercises its right to designate a document, or a 25 transcript in whole or in part as confidential, 26 there's a process that is to be followed. And part 27 of that process does not include taking portions of

1 the confidential document and doing anything with it,
2 besides the limited things that are allowed in this 3 protective order. So would it not include, for 4 example, posting on a website or filing it on the 5 internet in the court file? Do you agree with that?

6 ATTY. WOLMAN: I agree. And it looks like the 7 motion was filed where it was attempted to strip away
8 the confidential information part of that where it 9 did not identify a witness, and but appears that the 10 Court is viewing the - what is confidential and how 11 it's treated broader. And so we will abide that 12 going forward certainly.

13 THE COURT: Just give me one moment. And 14 looking at motion for commission to take Hillary 15 Clinton's deposition that was filed on July 1, 2021, 16 apparently in the middle of the deposition of the 17 lead plaintiff, what portion of - you can just read 18 it to me, because I don't have the transcript of the 19 lead plaintiff. But, read to me right from that 20 motion what portions in your mind were taken from the 21 confidentially designated deposition.

22 ATTY. WOLMAN: Certainly your Honor. There's 23 one sentence. Everything else is based upon a matter 24 of public record. So, there's only one sentence.
25 The witness claimed not to know her legal fees were 26 being paid.

27 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Anything further?

1 ATTY. WOLMAN: When someone says refusing to 2 answer, I don't believe is a statement of confidential - 3 it's confidential information itself. So the 4 preceding sentence. So, no, it would just be that 5 one sentence.

6 THE COURT: So Attorney Wolman, where did the 7 information come from that a plaintiff has refused to 8 answer the questions?

9 ATTY. WOLMAN: Well, that's information that -

10 THE COURT: Some of -

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: - that's saying - I apologize for 12 interjecting. Please?

13 THE COURT: If it - if it came from a transcript 14 that was marked as confidential, then why isn't that 15 confidential? I don't know. I wasn't at the 16 deposition, and I don't have the deposition
17 transcript. But if at the deposition the witness 18 refused to answer a certain line of inquiry, and that 19 was at a deposition where the transcript was marked 20 highly confidential, how could that information be 21 gleaned anywhere else?

22 ATTY. WOLMAN: I mean, your Honor, it is a 23 little difficult here because we've also called the 24 Court in the middle of confidential depositions. And 25 the Court has posted transcripts of those colloquies 26 without any form of sealing. This is - it's an 27 unusual circumstance, but we're talking about

1 questions and non-responses. I don't think is 2 information that we're dealing with.

3 THE COURT: So the sentence on advice of 4 counsel, at least one plaintiff has refused to answer
5 how so many of the clients all ended up represented 6 by the same firm. That was not information that was 7 gleaned from the deposition that we're talking about.

8 ATTY. WOLMAN: It's not information gleaned from 9 the deponent. It's an argument of counsel that is 10 not any of the information that it would be subject 11 to the protective order. The questions and non-12 answers that just - we were talking to the Court 13 about can we make inquiry as to the settlements. Can 14 we ask a witness about that, and we were before the 15 Court and there was no effort made to seal anything.

16 THE COURT: Attorney Wolman, I apologize because 17 it really might be me not understanding what you're 18 saying. But the sentence that I just recited that 19 refers to how many clients all ended up represented 20 by the same firm. That was not information that was 21 taken from the confidential transcript?

22 ATTY. WOLMAN: At that point no transcript had 23 been prepared, certainly by the -

24 THE COURT: Attorney Wolman, you're really 25 splitting hairs here and it concerns me that you 26 don't understand what your obligations are under the 27 protective order. That's why I'm going through this

1 exercise.

2 ATTY. WOLMAN: Okay. It's our understanding -

3 THE COURT: You know what I can do? I can have, 4 if you can't give me a straight answer, I can have 5 you lodge a copy of the deposition transcript, 6 because I can read. I can read what this motion that 7 was filed by Attorney Pattis says, then I look at the 8 deposition transcript and I could see if that was 9 contained in there. I - this is a straight question, 10 and I expect a straight answer. Unless you don't the 11 answer, which I accept. If you don't know the answer 12 to something, if you do not know whether that 13 question was asked at that deposition, that's okay 14 with me.

15 Then I will ask someone else if they know, or 16 I'll have the transcript lodged with the Court. And 17 I can read and I can figure it out. This is not - 18 I'm not looking for argument on it. It's just a very 19 simple question that I just can't get a straight 20 answer to. So you represented to me, and I accept 21 your representation because you're a Commissioner of 22 the Court and you have a duty of candor to the Court.
23 I asked this simple question of what in this motion 24 was taken from the deposition. Okay. And you gave 25 me the one sentence.

26 And now we're talking about this other sentence, 27 and since I wasn't at the deposition and I don't

1 presently have a copy of the transcript, I'm asking 2 you the question. And the question was, the 3 sentence, the preceding sentence on advice of counsel
4 at least one plaintiff has refused to answer how so 5 many of the client's all ended up represented by the 6 same firm. My question is, at the deposition that 7 we're talking about, was that question asked, the 8 question, how many clients ended up represented by 9 the same firm? It's a yes or a no, or an I don't 10 know.

11 ATTY. WOLMAN: I believe it was asked. I don't 12 have the transcript in front of me. But again, it's 13 a question as to whether or not the confidential 14 information is what the witness testifies to, rather 15 than the question and non - arguments of counsel and 16 non-responses. Because we haven't treated it that 17 way throughout this case, when we called the Court 18 during depositions designated confidential. So 19 questions and non-responses have not been treated
20 that way.

21 THE COURT: Anything further?

22 ATTY. WOLMAN: No, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Thank you. Who's arguing in 24 opposition?

25 ATTY. MATTEI: I am, your Honor.

26 THE COURT: When you're ready.

27 ATTY. MATTEI: Well, I have to say, I am more

1 alarmed now than I was before the argument. Because 2 what I've just heard is counsel for Alex Jones say, 3 that prior to the very middle of this hearing, he 4 thought it would have been acceptable to disseminate
5 to the world, personal, highly sensitive information
6 about my client's, so long as he didn't identify them 7 by name.

8 There is no reading of the protective order that 9 would permit that. Any material, whether it's a 10 document or a deposition transcript that is 11 designated as confidential, and any information 12 derived from that confidential information, is 13 protected, period. The protective order doesn't 14 speak in terms of, well, if you don't identify the 15 person by name, it applies specifically to 16 information.

17 And what happened here, we're in the very first 18 deposition of the very first plaintiff. In the 19 middle of the deposition after our clients had been 20 made aware that their information was protected by a 21 protective order and that the Court had the authority 22 to do that and enforce it. They disseminate to the 23 public, information that is clearly and unequivocally 24 and undeniably drawn from the deposition testimony 25 itself.

26 And I sat here during this last colloquy, Judge, 27 where you're trying to get Attorney Wolman to simply 1 admit that the statement in their motion for a 2 commission, quote, on advice of counsel, at least one 3 plaintiff has refused to answer how many of the 4 clients all ended up represented by the same firm.

5 He refused to admit that that statement was drawn 6 from the deposition, when of course that's the only 7 place it could have been drawn from. It's the first 8 deposition. They're claiming the plaintiff refused
9 to answer. A refusal to answer, I guess in Attorney 10 Wolman's tortured reading isn't actually information.
11 Perhaps it doesn't even count as an answer itself.

12 When they're asked, as they were, and I'm happy
13 to provide the transcript and Attorney Wolman knows 14 this, although he won't admit it to the Court, they 15 were asked - the plaintiff was asked repeatedly, are 16 you refusing to answer the question?

17 And the witness responded. I'm refusing to 18 answer that question on the advice of counsel.
19 Precisely what counsel with the Jones defendant's put 20 in their motion. And yet we're told by Attorney
21 Wolman that that does not count as confidential
22 information. And so we are left to wonder what else 23 the Jones defendants may unreasonably later claim was 24 unclear about the protective order.

25 And I want to go back to the context here, 26 because as troubling as it was that they were 27 essentially laying in weight during the first

1 deposition, to disclose confidential information.

2 The context here matters. This is the first 3 deposition of the first plaintiff, in which 4 undoubtedly highly sensitive information concerning 5 their lives, their medical history, their mental 6 health history, issues relating to damages; issues 7 relating to their deceased children are going to be 8 discussed. The most highly sensitive and personal of 9 information. And in that first deposition, they 10 choose to go public with information that our clients 11 had every reasonable expectation would be protected.

12 And it occurred in the midst of a 13 hour 13 deposition. No other deposition has lasted that 14 long. And the reason that they did that, is to send 15 the chilling message that you've already identified 16 to future witnesses and future plaintiff's, that they 17 better be careful about discussing openly their 18 personal information, their personal details of their 19 lives, because there may be a chance that before 20 their lawyers can protect them, Jones' lawyers are 21 going to the court and put it in the pleading.

22 And we've since received information that other 23 non-party witnesses are concerned about Jones' 24 conduct and his counsels' potential retaliation for 25 providing honest testimony in this case. So it's no 26 accident that this happened there in the first 27 deposition. It's no accident that it happened during

1 the context of what we consider to have been an 2 abusively long deposition. And if you ever have a
3 chance to read the entire transcript, I'm sure you 4 would agree. It was designed to set a tone for their 5 conduct for the rest of the case. And that's what 6 they did. And these unconvincing pleas that somehow 7 the protective order was unclear, because number one, 8 we didn't think that it applied to information, we 9 thought it only applied to the identities of the 10 people giving information. That's the first argument
11 we heard today. And then number two, well if it's a 12 non-response, although that may be information, it's 13 unclear whether that's confidential information, 14 because it's a non-response. It is, I think 15 inexcusable that our clients would give information 16 to Mr. Jones and his attorney's, when they have shown 17 such a disregard for the protective order.

18 And we would ask the Court to make a finding 19 that the conduct here was likely to lead to the 20 chilling effect that the Court has already expressed 21 it had grave concerns about. And even more so now, 22 given counsel's refusal initially to acknowledge that 23 there had even been a violation, and then his .
24 tortured answers and responses to the Courts 25 questions.

26 ATTY. WOLMAN: your Honor, it's my - actually 27 it's my confidential -

1 ATTY. CERAME: Your Honor -

2 THE COURT: One moment. One moment. Attorney
3 Cerame.

4 ATTY. CERAME: Yes, your Honor. I was actually 5 present at this deposition. I just want to correct a 6 couple of representations that were made by Attorney 7 Mattei, that I felt I need to correct the record or 8 just set something straight.

9 It was a long deposition. It was also one where 10 I participated very actively. I don't always do so.
11 In part because it was the first deposition. I
12 recall that I started asking questions about 5 p.m.
13 The witness was offered repeatedly if she wanted to 14 come back another day. She declined to do so. So I
15 started late, right? So I took a long time too. I 16 had a lot of questions. And I took a long time, and 17 I was very - for a number of reasons. It might be 18 apparent in the transcript. I just wanted to say 19 that.

20 For one thing in response to what Attorney 21 Mattei said here. There were a number of - it was 22 contentious. There was - it was unusually 23 contentious as someone coming in. And I wanted to 24 say that too. Some of the accusations I hear from 25 Attorney Mattei seem to be Ad hominem's, presuming to 26 derive intent. None of this personal identifying 27 information was really - is what was discussed in any

1 of the motions. But it was a very contentious 2 deposition, and I just wanted to note that for the 3 record, so the Court had that context of things.
4 That's all.

5 THE COURT: Thank you.

6 ATTY. WOLMAN: And I would ask -

7 THE COURT: One moment. Before I hear from 8 Attorney Wolman, I did want to ask you Attorney 9 Mattei, if there was any other portion of what was 10 designated as confidential. Any other sentences in 11 that motion for commission on the Hillary Clinton 12 deposition that we're taken from the deposition.
13 Since I don't have the transcript.

14 ATTY. MATTEI: There were no other sentences of 15 their motion for commission that were drawn from the 16 deposition. We do think that including them in a 17 motion for commission for Hillary Clinton's 18 deposition and some of the other statements within 19 the motion, were designed to ostensibly identify who 20 the plaintiff was, because it's public knowledge 21 about Ms. Lafferty's involvement in Ms. Clinton's 22 campaign. And so we think that that was essentially 23 a backdoor way to identify who the plaintiff was.

24 But the only two sentences are the ones that 25 were specifically drawn from the deposition itself, 26 are the ones that we cited in our motion.

27 THE COURT: Thank you. Attorney Wolman, you

1 have the floor.

2 ATTY. WOLMAN: Your Honor, I'm not aware of any 3 backdoor way. We could have been deposing any 4 witness. And in fact, the only parties that have 5 disclosed who the witness was, was the plaintiff's.
6 The motion does not say it was the first deposition 7 of the first plaintiff at all - or it's the lead name 8 plaintiff, in any way, shape or form. We haven't 9 said that in any respect, in terms of the - in that 10 motion. That's the plaintiff's disclosure and it's 11 theirs to make. Who says it's my disclosure - mine 12 to make that at least the question itself, not 13 necessarily the answer, or the non-answer is mine.

14 But what the question is, that's certainly my 15 information to disclose or at least - or other 16 co-counsel, as the case may be. There is no -
17 there's nothing chilling here. This was - I 18 understand the Court has viewed that, but we need to 19 view it in the context. This was not the issue of 20 who saw what doctor, with what condition. And who 21 has done what? What's their income? What's their 22 damages? It's nothing of the sort. It's a motion 23 for commission, where if the Court views it as two 24 sentences, we got the non-answer is an answer. Okay, 25 fine. And we'll understand that again going forward.

26 This was not - this is the first time that had 27 come up. There have been no other breaches from our

1 part since. We've taken many depositions, and that 2 hasn't happened in the slightest. No one has been 3 chilled. This was something designed as a motion to 4 take the commission and to the extent it was 5 misinterpreted as to what could be revealed and what 6 couldn't be. We understand that and we have ever 7 even since the motion for sanctions was filed in the 8 immediate aftermath, we haven't done anything of the 9 sort.

10 We've been very conservative in our approach 11 here, with the exception of discussions with the 12 Court as to questions and answers at depositions that 13 the Court needs to adjudicate. So, we firmly respect 14 the Court's protective order. We recognize that it's 15 an order we agreed to and it was just misunderstood
16 that -

17 THE COURT: Attorney Wolman, just to correct
18 what you're saying. It's an order that you filed, 19 that you submitted to the Court. You didn't agree to 20 it. It's not an order of the Court that you agreed 21 to. You actually filed it.

22 ATTY. WOLMAN: And people -

23 THE COURT: Your office filed it and drafted it.
24 Maybe you had conversations with the plaintiff's 25 counsel. You asked the Court to approve the order, 26 correct?

27 ATTY. WOLMAN: I understand. And you know,

1 Legislators often draft things that they don't fully 2 comprehend the implications of their own language.

3 So it can happen that an author doesn't really 4 realize that this is what's the full ramifications.

5 We've got thousands of statutes on the books, 6 where the Legislators didn't realize that they'd be 7 applied in a particular way. But, if we're going to 8 do a textural analysis, it is what it is. And 9 certainly we respect this is how the Court is 10 interpreting the order. We didn't expect it would be 11 that way.

12 And now we understand that this is how it's 13 being interpreted, and we fully abided it, even once 14 the hint of a violation raised by opposing counsel 15 was made. We've fully gone with that rigorous 16 interpretation.

17 ATTY. MATTEI: Just a couple of points.

18 THE COURT: Can I just you Attorney Wolman, what 19 steps when you said as soon as it was filed. I did 20 not see any corrective steps taken by the defendant's 21 once the confidential information was filed in the 22 Hillary Clinton motion. I did see the July 19, 2021
23 filing, which brought forth other arguments, 24 different arguments that you're making today. So 25 today this is more of a, we were confused, we didn't 26 think that it applied to information contained in the 27 confidential depositions, as long as we didn't give

1 the name. That's a new argument from the July 19
2 filing.

3 And the other new argument is, well, if - we 4 didn't realize that it was an objection or 5 non-responsive that we didn't realize that was 6 confidential either. Those are different argument's
7 that you made in the - from the July 19th filing, 8 which those arguments were more along the lines were, 9 well it was a bad designation, and shouldn't have 10 been designated, and the Court had no good cause to 11 issue a protective order in the first place. The 12 protective order that you asked the Court to grant 13 that you filed. So do you want to address that at 14 all?

15 ATTY. WOLMAN: Certainly, your Honor. I believe 16 that the arguments that I've made today are subsumed
17 within the filing. That - to the extent that there 18 was a violation, you know, this was not an 19 intentional violation. And that goes to, again, this 20 is not what we expected it to mean.

21 THE COURT: And when you say it wasn't 22 intentional, how was it not intentional exactly?

23 ATTY. WOLMAN: The witness was not specifically 24 identified. It was not meant to violate any 25 witnesses' confidentiality, but rather simply to 26 raise a generic issue with the Court as to plaintiffs 27 in general. Not really revealing any one particular

1 witnesses confidential information.

2 THE COURT: Attorney Cermane, anything further?

3 ATTY. CERAME: I would note just briefly. I
4 think that what Attorney Wolman is saying is, that 5 there was a difference of opinion about the 6 interpretation of the order. I stay so - I don't 7 want to get anywhere near that I'll say, because it 8 is so contentious. It seems like to me just I can 9 understand how someone might have a different 10 understanding of the order. The parties might have a 11 different understanding of it. That's all I have to 12 say, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: So I do intend to impose sanctions.
14 I do think that - I reject the arguments that were 15 made in the July 19, 2021 filing by the defendant's.
16 I reject the arguments that were made today by 17 defense counsel. I think that the arguments were 18 baseless, and I think the behavior really is 19 unconscionable. There is no confusion. There can be 20 no confusion about a very straight forward protective 21 order that counsel themselves filed and asked the 22 Court to approve. And I am concerned about a 23 chilling effect on the testimony of other witnesses.

24 So we are going to leave and I may schedule 25 another court date because there's a lot of ground to 26 cover. The next time we convene, I want to address
27 also the Google analytics documents, the social media

1 documents and any other discovery issues. So it may 2 very well - and address what sanctions are going to 3 enter, so it may very well be that we have another 4 hearing before our hearing in November. Because we 5 really have quite a bit of ground to cover.

6 Because of the concerns that I've voiced, and 7 because of what I've heard from counsel for the Alex
8 Jones defendant's and in part Attorney Cerame, 9 because of your comments, I am very concerned that 10 the defendant's in this case having expressed 11 confusion of a very clear protective order, that 12 there are going to be problems in the future. I 13 suggest strongly for your own interests, as well as 14 your client's interests, that you are err on the side 15 of the caution and seek advice from the Court if you 16 have any concerns about how to proceed.

17 So rather than just file a motion, where you're 18 concerned whether or not, given what you've said, 19 that you have any concerns that may be confidential
20 information. That you somehow seek the Court's 21 intervention, so that you don't get yourself in a 22 situation where more damage is done.

23 So with that, we'll adjourn on this matter.
24 Thank you, counsel.

25 (The matter concluded.)
